

CITY NEWS

Movement is Underway on New Ailey Foundation Wing

Work begins this week on a $25 million expansion to the Alvin Ailey Dance Foundation's home in Midtown West. Ailey company dancers and students marked the occasion with a performance that included excerpts from the choreographer's signature work, "Revelations."

New York City has allocated $4 million for the new Elaine P. Wynn & Family Foundation Education Wing, set to open next fall. Private money will cover the rest, through a $50 million campaign to fund various Ailey initiatives. It has raised $48 million in pledges thus far.

