NEW YORK CITY (PIX11) – Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater returns to New Jersey Performing Arts Center for Mother’s Day weekend tradition.

The company, a longtime favorite of tri-state audiences, returns for its 27th engagement as NJPAC’s Principal Resident Affiliate.

The performances feature new works by Maija García, Fredrick Earl Mosley, Matthew Neenan and Jamar Roberts, along with the company premiere of Medhi Walerski’s “Blink of an Eye.”

Each program closes with Alvin Ailey’s acclaimed 1960 masterpiece “Revelations.”
